I'm imagining a decentralized network made up of humans which aggregate specific data (linked to a specific IP address) and tag it with a "score", similar to DeepPage. Any ideas? ===== clever Just scraping the results pages and pushing that to the front page would result in quite a bit of traffic as it stands. I'm sure there would be a ton of CDNs interested in serving that traffic. ~~~ Deestan Yes, that's the part I'm thinking of. However, I'm also thinking of a decentralized system where only humans are submitting links and tags and humans decide what score it will get.
